

The Northeast Texas Habitat Incentive Program & National Wild Turkey Federation

The Northeast Texas Habitat Incentive Program is intended to encourage private lands conservation, through financial and technical assistance, that addresses high priority issues in our high priority landscapes. Initial funding is provided by Texas Parks & Wildlife Department through Upland Migratory Bird Conservation funds, and the National Wild Turkey Federation will hold the Agreements. Due to the source of this first round of financial assistance, successful proposals in 2017 will need to address upland bird conservation priorities.

Map depicts relevant Northeast Texas Conservation Delivery Network Priority Areas and 2 and 4 mile buffers in relation to subject property.

For more information please contact:

Dan Johnson, PWS
District Biologist - eastern Texas

15356 N State Hwy 94 | Apple Springs, TX 75926
Cell: (406) 239-6454 | Email: djohnson@nwtf.net
www.nwtf.org